

*The extraordinary pram
for very special people*

*„Super suspension for an optimal
Sleeping comfort for your baby“*

-Patricia Hesselbacher-

Dear parents,

every walk with the pram is like a little or even long journey for your offspring. That's why HESBA's motto is to develop the most comfortable and durable prams – so that neither distance nor nature of the ground or lying comfort will ever matter again.

Special prams for special people

Our models are prams of the highest quality that can be with you and your baby from birth until the age of three. The classy vintage design, together with an abundance of colour combinations, makes sure that your pram is as unique as your little darling.

Your child grows – our prams follow

Our models are convincing multifunctional prams. During the first six months your baby lies comfortably in the lie-flat pram – as soon as it can sit, you can use the pushchair attachment. And no matter, whether sun or rain, cobbled roads or paths full of roots: with the HESBA-suspension your baby will experience a smooth and relaxing ride.

You are looking for something individual and for functionality that can hardly be surpassed?

I hope you enjoy our catalogue and I am sure that you, and especially your child, will be enthusiastic about our stylish travel companions.

Kind regards your

Patricia Hesselbacher

History

The company started manufacturing baskets and dolls prams after it was established in 1925 by Konrad Hesselbacher.

In 1950, his son, Alfred Hesselbacher, fulfilled his father's dream and began to manufacture prams. He has been manufacturing prams in Upper Franconia with lots of love and commitment, at first using wood.

However, this construction was too heavy and uncomfortable and a decision in favour of lightweight carrycots was made that are still manufactured today.

They were optimised over many years and, together with the suspension and the classical design, are the core parts of the HESBA combination pram.

Third generation family business

As of April 2016, Patricia Hesselbacher, the company founder's youngest granddaughter and Alfred Hesselbacher's daughter, has taken over the management of the family business.

HESBA stands for HESselBAcher.

Alfred Hesselbacher created the brand name HESBA from the letters of his last name when he began to manufacture prams. Today, the HESBA brand stands for sophisticated, timeless, classical prams.

"It is our aim to optimally support your child's development with our prams. It is important for us that your child is lying protected, safely and comfortably"

The horse as trademark

The horse symbolises the character of our individual prams. Just like the graceful animal, our combination prams exhibit elegance. The robust construction with the unique suspension allows countless excursions in nature over country paths and across country. Furthermore, our timeless prams are faithful companions in any situation and they quickly carry your child to the destination with reliability, protected and safely.

Our models

The models Corrado, Condor Coupé and Calido differ in their different canopy shapes.

The models ClassicA and ClassicKorb are classic prams with a solid tub, the pushchair attachment can be ordered separately as an accessory.

All models can be ordered optionally with tubeless or hard rubber tyres in two different sizes.

Classic A

The classic pram with solid tub and no removable carrycot

With the ClassicA, the tub can be folded up and thus be stored in the car in a space-saving way.
As the pushchair attachment is not incorporated, the ClassicA model has a lower weight. The pushchair attachment can be ordered as an accessory.

ClassicKorb

The classic pram with a hand-woven basket tub made from local willow

The ClassicKorb canopy always comes without a safety U-bracket, as is the case with the Condor Light. The carrying straps are integrated into the side walls of the bassinet and can be stowed in a zipped pocket. As the pushchair attachment is not incorporated, the ClassicKorb model has a lower weight. The pushchair attachment can be ordered as an accessory.

Removable lightweight carrycot

For the models Condor Coupé, Corrado and Calido.

Comfortable lying area: For a back-friendly development, your child requires a perfect lying area especially during the first months. A horizontal position and plenty of space to stretch are especially important. Our specially developed lightweight carrycot is particularly spacious, stable and mobile at the same time and therefore guarantees optimal sleeping comfort. Should your baby fall asleep in the pram, you can comfortably carry it in the carrycot into the house without having to wake it up.

Pushchair

As soon as your child can sit independently, the pram attachment can be modified into a pushchair. The pushchair attachment can be positioned flexibly either facing forwards or backwards. The backrest can be adjusted in five different positions and allows sitting or lying.

Chassis

The steel tube chassis is robust and extremely durable. The basket at the bottom of the chassis can be loaded with a max. weight of 5 kg and helps when transporting small shopping.

The chassis is collapsible to be stowed away e.g. in the car trunk.

Suspension

Thanks to the soft-joint suspension, the pram navigates uneven surfaces, country paths and cobbled roads easily. The smooth rocking movement makes the babies feel good and they fall asleep peacefully.
